Set on a spacious 1,017 m2 plot, the property combines timeless architecture, breathtaking surroundings, and exceptional versatility—making it ideal as a family residence, boutique hotel, or investment project. Originally constructed in 1929, the home has been lovingly preserved, maintaining its authentic Canarian character while offering abundant scope for modern updates. With 490 m2 of built space across two floors, the interiors are filled with natural light, featuring high wooden ceilings, traditional stonework, and elegant original finishes. The country-style kitchen and dining area provide the perfect setting for gatherings, complemented by multiple living and reading spaces throughout the house. In total, the property features six spacious bedrooms, 5 bathrooms, three of which are en-suites and private terraces overlooking the rolling hills and volcanic peaks of northern Lanzarote. Outside, a covered veranda invites you to relax and enjoy the peace and beauty of Haría's natural landscape.
